

SEE WHAT TOP 10 DISTRICTS HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CENTEGIX

School District of Palm Beach County, FL- 10th largest district in the U.S.

Palm Beach County Schools looking to buy employee-operated panic alert buttons - CBS 12 News, 6/3/22

"CENTEGIX already has a contract with the Florida Department of Education for the only badge-based solution approved by the state."

Palm Beach County Public Schools may add new panic buttons - FOX 29 WFLX, 6/2/22

"Calling it an "important investment" in school security, Burke said that, if approved, the technology will be rolled out next school year."

Palm Beach County Public Schools May Add New panic buttons for employees - 5WPTV, 6/2/22

"Burke, a father himself, understands that parents are anxious about the safety of their children and hopes another layer of security will ease minds."

Clark County School District, NV- 5th largest district in the U.S.

CCSD rolls out instant alert system pilot program allowing staff to call for help - News 3LV, 6/2/22

"CENTEGIX has two major functions. Staff wear badges with assistance buttons. The staff alert notifies responders to a medical emergency or fight."

CCSD to use crisis badges at 9 schools - LV Review Journal, 6/2/22

"As of Thursday, the district had rolled out CrisisAlert badges that will be worn by staff at four high schools."

Hillsborough County Public Schools, FL- 8th largest district in the U.S.

Student safety emphasized at Hillsborough County Public Schools in wake of Texas shooting - Bay NEWS 9, 5/25/22

"New technology, including the school's CENTEGIX Alert System, allows staff to call for aid immediately."