Power your existing investments to enhance response to safety incidents.

CENTEGIX and Singlewire Software have partnered to deliver the most robust end-to-end emergency response platforms for schools. Together, CENTEGIX's CrisisAlert™ badge and Singlewire's InformaCast platform enable school districts to leverage existing investments to better respond to, notify, and manage incidents.

The wearable CrisisAlert™ badge empowers staff to call for help in any emergency, whether it's a medical crisis, behavioral incident, elopement scenario, or something extreme like a lockdown. Whether in the classroom or on the playground, staff can quickly and easily summon emergency help from first responders anywhere on campus with the push of a button, no wi-fi or cellular signal needed.

Every second matters in a crisis. Using CrisisAlert™ and InformaCast, schools can leverage every available communication method to ensure staff and students are immediately notified of an emergency and the necessary steps to take. First responders are instantly alerted where to go and who needs help.

Managing an emergency requires understanding what's happening as an incident unfolds and how to communicate information effectively to others involved. With CrisisAlert™ and InformaCast, schools can turn their safety plans into action, coordinating an efficient and effective response to any crisis scenario.
